

Tiffany Walker is currently one of the assistant conductors of the University of Washington Chamber Singers, under the direction of Dr. Geoffrey Boers. She has formerly assisted Dr. Giselle Wyers with the University Chorale, and was a co-director of the UW Collegiate Treble Choir. She previously worked as the Box Office Manager for Pacific MusicWorks, and is currently the Music Director at Messiah Lutheran Church in Seattle.

In July 2019, she was a conducting fellow at the San Diego Choral Conducting Workshop, led by Dr. Patrick Walders.

Prior to her studies at the University of Washington, Tiffany taught private voice lessons and was an assistant conductor in the choral music department at Ruben S. Ayala High School in Chino Hills, California. She conducted the Women's Ensemble during a concert tour to Puerto Rico. She also helped prepare rehearsals and sang with the Vocal Ensemble at the Third International Choral Festival in Lima, Peru.

As a high school choral director at San Clemente High School and Ruben S. Ayala High School, her auditioned groups won gold ratings at Heritage Festivals in various cities nationwide. She was a member of the Pacific Chorale under the direction of Dr. John Alexander. Some of her accomplishments with Pacific Chorale include performances at the Hollywood Bowl and participation in many live concerts and CD recordings in Orange County.
