With its rich tradition of voice and choral excellence, close proximity to the region's top opera and choral performance organizations and committed, engaged faculty, the University of Washington School of Music remains a top choice for serious students of voice and choral activities.

For detailed information about the voice program or choral activities, follow the links below.

- Choral Activities
- Voice Program

The University of Washington acknowledges the Coast Salish peoples of this land, the land which touches the shared waters of all tribes and bands within the Suquamish, Tulalip and Muckleshoot nations.