DOCTOR OF MUSICAL ARTS IN HARPSICHORD PERFORMANCE

THREE TO FIVE YEAR DEGREE (51-30)

The Supervisory Committee creates the Doctor of Musical Arts program for each student in order to fulfill the best interests of that student’s education. Therefore, it is important that a student form a Supervisory Committee as soon as possible after entering the doctoral program. It is the responsibility of the Supervisory Committee to assure an appropriate program of study for each student. Students typically enter the doctoral program having completed coursework equivalent to a master’s degree in music. See our master’s degree program requirements. The Graduate School requires ninety (90) credits for the doctoral degree, sixty (60) of which must be taken at the University of Washington. In addition to coursework at the master’s level, the following is a breakdown of coursework required for the doctoral degree.

| Doctoral Recitals: | Present four recitals consisting of 2 solo recitals, 1 chamber recital and 1 lecture recital. The scheduling of the recital must be done with the consent of appropriate faculty. All recitals must be documented as “A recital in fulfillment of the requirement for the Doctor of Musical Arts Degree.” The programs and recital approval forms signed by appropriate faculty are placed in the student's file. Students should register for 6 credits of MUSIC 590 during the quarter in which they perform the lecture-recital/concerto-recital, and should register for 6 credits of MUSIC 800 (R) during each quarter in which they perform each of the three other required doctoral recitals, which form part of the DMA dissertation. |

Total Credits: 90

- Foreign Language: Students must pass a foreign language examination, choice of language to be approved by the supervisory committee. If a student has fulfilled this requirement for the master's degree, no additional language is required.

- General Examination: Students must pass a General Examination in order to earn candidacy for the doctoral degree and may sign up for MUSIC 600 with members of their committee in order to prepare for the examination. Students must have their Supervisory Committee established at least four months before the oral portion of the General Examination. The Request for the General Examination must be submitted online to the Graduate School no later than three (3) weeks before the examination. The Graduate School requires completion of 60 credits of coursework (including coursework taken for the master's degree) prior to the General Examination, 18 of which must be from the 500-level or above and 18 of which are from the 400-level or above and numerically graded.

- Final Examination: Students must submit a draft of the dissertation to the Reading Committee no later than five (5) weeks before the proposed Final Examination date. Once the Reading Committee has read a draft of the dissertation and agrees that it is ready to defend, the student may then submit the Request for Final Examination online to the Graduate School, which must be done no later than three (3) weeks before the exam date. See the Graduate School home page at http://www.grad.washington.edu for information about formatting and submitting the dissertation, etc. A student must satisfy the Graduate School's requirements for the degree at the time the degree is to be awarded.

The definition of academic course work in Music is any 400- or 500-level class taught by faculty in the four academic Divisions: Ethnomusicology, Music History, Music Education, and Music Theory.
