PIANO PROFICIENCY TEST FAQS

Q: WHAT IS THE PIANO PROFICIENCY TEST?
A: Most music degrees at UW have a piano proficiency requirement – either up to MUSAP 135 or MUSAP 235. Your adviser can tell you what your requirement is for your specific degree. This requirement can be fulfilled by passing the appropriate piano course. However, some students who have had a great deal of piano instruction may opt to take the piano proficiency test in order to pass out of the course. If you think you might be in this group, we strongly urge you to first look over the packet of materials for the course you would like to pass out of, and ask yourself honestly if you think you can master all of the required skills without the help of lessons or class.

Q: WHAT WILL I BE TESTED ON?
A: It depends on what level of proficiency your degree program requires; please check with your advisor. Listed below are the items you must prepare if you wish to test out of MUSAP 135 or MUSAP 235.

Prepare for the proficiency test using the appropriate packet:
